FIFTY KILLED IN TORRENTIAL RAIN IN PENNSYLYANIA

ERIE SUFFERS SEVERELY FROM FLOODS WHICH FOLLOWED A CLOUDBURST.

NEW YORK WAS ALSO STRUCK

Downpour Followed Thirty Hours of Rain—Many Homes Were Washed Away.

STORM HIT NEW YORK.

New York, Aug. 4—After thirty hours of rain a torrential downpour broke over New York and vicinity this morning, accompanied by a sixty mile gale. In a dozen parts of New York and Brooklyn the streets are under three feet of water. A small schooner was sunk and the captain and one sailor were drowned. Considerable damage was done along the coast.

ESTIMATED 50 KILLED.

Trie, Aug. 4—Coroner Hanley estimates the dead at fifty. Fourteen bodies have been recovered.

(Associated Press)

Erie, Pa., Aug. 4—Probably twenty-five lives were lost and property damage estimated at $3,000,000 was caused by an unprecedented storm in Erie and vicinity last night.

Streets became running rivers and scores of homes and dozens of factories were swept away in a cloudhurst which followed an all-day rain.

Dam Gave Way.

At 8:45 o'clock last night the dam at Glenwood, three miles above the city, burst and a wall of water swept down Mill creek.

For four blocks to either side of the stream, including State street, the main business artery of the city, the ground was covered from six inches to five feet.

Structures Swept Awya.

The Leomhuis wagon works and the Nelson machine shops, each occupying half a block, were the largest structures swept away. The Jaracki and Lowell wood working plants, the two largest manufactories in the city, were covered with water fifteen inches deep.

Lighting System Paralyzed.

The gas mains were cut off and the electric lighting of the city was paralyzed. In several places homes and factories had been built over Mill creek and the wreckage which lodged at these culverts caused the water to back up.

Tracks Washed Away,

The storm covered all the northern part of Pennsylvania and western New York. All tracks of the Lake Shore and Nickle Plate railroads between Erie and Moorehead have been washed away. At 8 o'clock this morning a temporary single track was laid establishing traffic between the east and west. The Twentieth Century limited, westbound, and other fast trains, were sent over the Michigan Central line to Detroit.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Nearly three inches of rain fell on Chicago, flooding several sections of the city and north shore suburbs.

From Edgewater north to the county line the storm washed out pavements, filled cellars, delayed traffic and inundated streets.

The first three days in August broke all precipitation records for the department. About three inches of water has fallen in the Chicago district since July 31.

The normal precipitation for the period is about .25 inch, according to the weather bureau, the excess precipitation being 2.69 inches.

Joliet Inundated.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 4.—Joliet's east side faces inundation by a flood which

Germans Defeated In Effort To Cut Off Warsaw City

Reinforced Teuton Army Repulsed By Russians Along Skwa River

(Associated Press)

The British, French, Russian and Italian ministers at Athens today made a collective visit to M. Gounaris, the Greek premier, and made united representations regarding the political situation.

Russians Hold Out

The official statement from Petrograd today contained mention of the successful resistance of the Russians to the efforts of the German armies to cut off Warsaw. There has been severe fighting with heavy losses to both sides. On the Pissa and Skwa rivers, northeast of Warsaw, the state ment says, the Russians were attacked by the 'entire German army" reinforced with men from France, but Petrograd asserts that the Germans were defeated. The battle for crossing the Narew has not yet begun.

Belgian Steamer Sunk

The Belgian steamer Koophaniel was sunk by a submarine, nine of the crew being saved.

Report Evacuation.

An unconfirmed report says the Russian legation at The Hague has officially announced the evacuation of Warsaw.

French Confirm Capture.

A French prize court has confirmed the capture of the American cotton steamer Daisi, which was picked up Feb. 27.

Prince Leads Attack.

The Berlin official statement says the forces of Prince Leopold of Bavaria are now hurling themselves against the fortresses defending Warsaw.

INLET SWAMP WORK IS AT A STAND STILL

COMMISSIONERS HOPE TO GET ORDERS FOR NINTH ASSESSMENT SOON.

The work on the ditch in the Inlet Swamp drainage district is suspended for a time as the funds on hand have been used up and the commissioners of the district are preparing a roll asking the court for an order to levy the ninth assessment. The next assessment will be for about $100,000 to carry on the work planned. The dredge is now at Inlet and over one mile of rock work remains to be done The cet from the Burlington bridge at Amboy to Inlet has been practically all through rock and this has been slow and expensive work. The commissioners are hoping to get a court order for the assessment so as to resume work in October. About 4,000 acres were recently taken into the district and much tiling is to be done in this new territory. With the ditch completed the entire swamp country about Lee Center, Bradford, Viola and Reynolds township will be afforded drainage.

MERCHANDISE TRAIN WRECKED THIS MORN

TRAFFIC ON NORTHWESTERN DELAYED BY ACCIDENT AT MAPLE PARK

A broken journal on a freight car of Northwestern merchandise rain No. 125 west bound, caused a bad wreck one miles west of Maple Park at about 3 o'clock this morning and traffic over both tracks was tied up until nearly noon today as a result, fifteen laden cars being piled up on both tracks. No one was hurt.

The wreck, however, delayed the morning paper train from Chicago, and all other trains were delayed, as it was necessary to detour them via West Chicago, Belvidere and De Kalb. The accident also prevented the Dixon merchandise from Chicago reaching this city until after noon.

Attorney A. H. Hanneken and Prof Horace Street leave Friday for a two months' trip to the Pacific coast. They will stop at St. Louis, then go to Denver nad then on to San Francisco. They will return by way of Yellowstone Park.

SLEEPING ON TRACK AWOKE IN ETERNITY

SAMUEL HUDSON FINDS DEATH ON RAILS OF BRANCH LINE.

RELAPSE FROM DIXON HILARITY

Samuel Hodson, a member of the Ogle county bridge gang, met death Wednesday afternoon under wheels of an eastbound Forreston branch train. The train, due in Oregon at 4:45 p. m., while rounding the curve west of the Zumdahl crossing above Mt. Morris, came upon a man lying partly across one of the rails. The engineer is said to have noticed an boject upon the track but believed it to be some animal. An instant later he identified the object as the legs of a man, whose body was extended in the weeds along the right of way. Before he could stop the train the engine and several cars had passed over the sleeper's legs, severing both near the body and crushing the pelvic bone.

When removed from beneath the train he was in a dying conditoin. He was placed in the baggage car and was still alive when the train reach Mt. Morris, where a local physician made an examination of his injuries and pronounced them hopelessly fatal. He died within a few minutes.

Hodson, a native of England, came about three weeks ago from Lincoln, Ill., accompanied by Frank Yates of that city, and became a member of the bridge gang employed by Shons bridge Co. of Freeport, doing bridge building under county contract in Ogle county. On Tuesday Hodson and Yates went to Dixon on the traditional mission. Not feeling in condition to return to the camp Tuesday evening they passed the night in Dixon and Wednesday morning boarded an Illinois Central train and alighted at Haldane. From the station they started to walk to camp and when near Maryland Station Hodson complained that his feet hurt and that he would take the highway in preference to the railroad tracks on which they were walking. Yates then proceeded alone. Evidently Hodson later concluded to follow the railway line and growing more weary lay down to sleep on the track.—Ogle Co. Reporter.

TWO FEET OF RAIN IN LAST THREE MONTHS

JULY WAS WETTEST WITH OVER TEN INCHES PRECIPITATION.

FARMERS GREATLY HAMPERED

Two feet of rain has fallen in Dixon and vicinity in the past three months, as the records since May 1 show a total precipitation of 23.72 inches. July was the wettest of the three months, 10.41 inches of water falling during her thirty-one days, while June had but 3.91 inches. In May 7.60 inches precipitation was shown.

Sunday, the first suitable day for the past two weeks, saw many of the farmers in their fields cutting oats, and in many instances the grain has been stacked. But there are still many fields which should be cut at once, and which are so wet that the workers can not get into them.

Binders on Skids

The Aurora farmers have solved the problem of cutting flat oats, the Aurora Beacon-News says:

Some farmers in the vicinity of Aurora are putting their twine binding machines on skids and attaching small gasoline motors to the rear of the machines in order to harvest their oats crop.

The oat crop this year is unusually heavy and the extraordinary rains have made the ground in most places little better than a bog. The heavy topped grain has been blown down by the wind and this prevents the sun from shining through and drying out the soil. Consequently there is trouble the minute a heavy binder enters the field. Despite the width of the binder wheels the heavy machines sink into the ground, most of them below the hubs of the wheels

By mounting the binders on skids or placing them on "stone boats"

CHARGES WIFE WITH DESERTION

Charles Wild Stands Suit for Divorce In Circuit Court.

On Tuesday in the circuit court Charles C. Wild, through his attorney, John E. Erwin, filed suit for divorce from his wife, Genevia Wild, on the grounds of desertion. He states in his petition that they were married in Dixon Sept. 12, 1899 and that in May, 1913, the defendant absented herself from home and has so continued since that time. The hearing on the petition will be held at the September term of circuit court.

Grand Detour Co. Asked To Make War Munitions

Pres. Brinton, However, Does Not Consider Proposal Made By Agents

President W. B. Brinton of the Grand Detour Plow Co. in Dixon has a letter on his desk from an American commission house proposing that the Grand Detour Plow works be turned into an ammunition factory and that the efforts oof the workmen of Dixon and the machinery of the plant be turned to the manufacturing of cartridges to be used by one of the great European armies now at war.

The communication gives no information as to what nation they are representing or where the cartridges would go when completed. It only asks the Grand Detour Plow company to make cartridges, 'millions of them," in fact all the plant can turn out, at "high prices."

But the chances that Dixon will be turned into a birthplace for the deadly missles that are devastating Europe of her strong men, are very slight, for Col. Brinton does not think very favorably of the manufacture of ammunition and he is not considering the proposition.

COMMITTEEMEN WILL HAVE SOME ASSISTANTS

SEVERAL OF SOIL IMPROVEMENT DIRECTORS PICK THOSE TO HELP THEM

At a meeting of the Lee County Soil Improvement Association held at Amboy, it was voted to permit each member of the board of directors, which consists of one from each township to appoint assistants in soliciting members to the association. The directors were requested to send in the names of the men so appointed to W. A. Green, secretary.

W. N. Kruger of Harmon townsrip has sent to Secretary Green the following names of gentlemen to assist him in Harmon township: John L. Porter, E. G. Watkins and A. B. Clatworthy.

W. N. Kruger of Harmon township township, has appointed Harry Planger, Joseph Hull Sr., T. J. Lyons and Miss Josephine Egan as his aids in securing members. Every farmer who has been seen in regard to this matter of securing a soil expert for Lee county, has expressed an interest and willingness to join the organization. Only 45 from each township can join the association.

STORY OF RIOT AT CAMP DUNNE DENIED

RAIN RENDERS PARADE GROUND TOO MUDDY—DRILLS ARE CALLED OFF.

This morning's Chicago papers published a dispatch from Dixon to the effect that in an inter-company fight between Co. G of Dixon and Co. E of Sterling, one man lost his eye at Camp Dunne yesterday and twenty of the militiamen were thrown into the guard house.

The story is denied in toto by the officers, who say that the only trouble of any kind was a personal set-to between two privates, which was stopped after one man had been punched in the eye. The injuries were not serious and no arrests were made.

The heavy rain has made the drill grounds too muddy for use and it was impossible to hold any of the regular drills today.

GOOD ROADS TO BE DISCUSSED AT ASSEMBLY

TOMORROW AFTERNOON WILL BE DEVOTED TO NEEDS OF COMMUNITY

ASSEMBLY NEEDS GOOD WEATHER

Quartet Played This Afternoon—Was One of Best Ever Heard In Dixon

What Rock River Assembly needs most of all on its program is sunshine and plenty of it. Of what good is a program of excellent entertainment if the weather man in continually holding the rain gates open.

Prof. Willis Moore, the weather man for 18 years, will not arrive here until Aug. 10th, and when he comes it is expected that he will bring god weather. "How to prevent rain" would be an excellent subject for some ambitious young man to to discuss. If he could keep it from raining for 20 or 30 days he would make a mint of money.

However, in the face of all the rainy weather, the campers wander about the grounds and apparently take weather conditions good naturedly.

It sometimes occurs to the chief of the press bureau that the weather man thinks this a Baptist chautauqua instead of a Lutheran institution and is working away in good faith.

Quartet Made Hit

The weather did not prevent the Tschaikowsky Quartet and Miss Elizabeth Woods from making a decided hit with their audience this afternoon. This attraction was one of the best here this season and it is to be regretted that weather conditions kept so many away from the entertainment.

The program rendered by the noted quartet was of a high class. Each member is an artist. Miss Wood. proved herself a very charming singer. The solo work was splendid.

Rev. Gilmer Arrives

Rev. E. H. Gilmer, pastor of the Lutheran church at Tipton, Ia., has arrived on the grounds and is staying at the hotel. Rev. Gilmer, for years, was engaged in the newspaper business, and knows how to sympathize with the press agent of the Assembly who finds it quite a difficult task to fill two columns with interesting news matter on the rainy days of the session. It is a big job on days when the sun shines, but it is much more of a task when the park is flooded and the rain continues to fall.

Dr. Peery Arrives

President Rufus B. Peery of Atchison, Kas., arrived this morning. He will address the Bible conference Thursday and Friday. Mr. Peery is president of Midland College and was for a number of years a missionary of the Lutheran church in the Flowery Kingdom. Dr. Peery will also preach at the morning hour of worship on the second Sunday of the conference.

Assembly Notes

This is bad weather for picnic parties, hence none are reported.

Campers are not overworked taking care of guests. There are none.

There are no fishing parties being planned. Hence there are no fish stories. George Reedy of Mt. Morris tried the fishing game yesterday morning and brought home a fish that measured just two inches.

The rainy weather brings visitors to the Press tent. There are interesting discussions held there daily.

Williams Here Sunday

Sunday evening Evan Williams, America's greatest concert tenor, will sing a concert. This is one big feature of the Assembly this year. Thousands ought to hear Williams, for seldom one gets an opportunity to hear singers such as Williams.

Dr. Lincoln Wirt will lecture Sunday afternon. He has recently returned from the war zone and with the subject, "In the Wake of the War," the speaker ought to give the people something very good.

Friday's Program Good

One of the best programs of this week is reserved for Friday. In the afternoon of that day Hon. Hamilton Holt, editor of the New York Independent, will lecture, his subject being the Federation of the World. Holt is one of the best informed men on this subject on the lecture platform today. Men of Dixon and vicinity, will and ought to hear this

PONDEROUS PERSONAGES — ALEXANDER DUMAS

Alexander Dumas was the Rubens of literature. He lived sixty-seven years and in that time he produced more plays and books than the average strong man could have written in the same time, using both hands.

Dumas was the grandson of a West India mulatto woman—a fact which has caused earnest critics of the negro race to scratch their heads doubtfully many times. His grandfather was a French nobleman and from him Dumas inherited enough polish to break into the big league socially and become secretary to a Duke at $240 a year and board.

He was about twenty at this time. In 1829 at the age of twenty-six he produced his first play. It netted him $6,000 and almost as much fame as he could acquire nowadays making funny motions with his feet before a moving picture camera.

Dumas immediately wrote a dozen more plays and became rich and powerful. He built his own theatre and also a country home on which he spent half a million francs. He wrote "The Count of Monte Cristo" and all France sat up waiting for the next installment. He was the most successful of all writers and frequently had ten stories and half a dozen love affairs going at once.

Year after year Dumas continued to turn out stories in incredible numbers. No magazine would sell without a Dumas story in it and he accommodated them all. Finally a statistician of a nasty investigative disposition made some calculations and discovered that Dumas couldn't be writing all of his stories, even if he sat up all night and wrote with his feet. This caused a great sensation and Dumas was accused of running a story factory and hiring journeymen writers at a few dollars per thousand words to fill in his plots—which shows that, however great are the strides which business enterprise has made, the old timers still have a few tricks to show us.

Dumas died in 1870. He is credited with having produced 1,200 works of one sort or another. Thus fame is its own misfortune. Even if Dumas did not write all of his own works he had to read them.

MANY TOWNS HIT BY CLOUDBURSTS

12-Inch Downfall Is Claimed Near Hammond, Ind.

PEOPLE IN PERIL OF LIVES

has been threatening for two weeks, and which, augmented by a cloudburst, turned two creeks into rivers, broke through the banks of the Illinois and Michigan canal and marooned hundreds of workmen, who need boats to reach plants of the Texas Oil company and the coke plant of the Illinois Steel company here.

Rushing down upon Joliet from Frankfort and New Lenox, where an all-night downpour leveled scores of fields of grain, a flood of water swept into Hickory and Spring creeks which flow through the east side of the city, turned both streams into leaping torrents and rose inch by inch until the water overflowed and swept into Joliet's east side residence district. Police lifeboats rescued many from their homes as the floods rose.

Dozens of families deserted their homes, many taking refuge at the power house of the Chicago & Alton railway.

Twelve Inches of Rain.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 4.—A cloudburst in the Calumet region precipitated twelve inches of rain in the West Hammond lowlands. The lives of many were imperiled when the waters rose over their beds. Mrs. John Kennedy, an aged woman, was found unconscious and may die. She was swept out of bed by the water. The property loss will reach $500,000. Crops are ruined.

$100,000 Damage Done in Peoria.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 4.—Property damage estimated at $100,000 was caused in Peoria and vicinity by a cloudburst. The government weather bureau reports rainfall of 2.19 inches. The city's sewer system proved inadequate, resulting in the flooding of streets and basements.

The storm extended for many miles outside of the city. For the third time in a few months, the tracks of the Peoria & Pekin Union railway were washed away six miles below Peoria. Heavy damage to the embankments of the Rock Island also were reported.

Surrounding towns report great damage to property.

Miners Barely Escape.

Indiana, PPa., Aug. 4.—Wading in water, at times to their neck, 450 miners escaped from the Sample Run mine, near here, after being imprisoned for several hours. It is believed no lives were lost, although the census of those employed in the shaft has not yet been completed. During the night heavy rains over the water shed so swelled a little stream near the opening that a great volume of water poured into the mine.

Railroad Bridge Washed Out.

Ottawa, Ill., Aug. 4.—Cloudbursts in different parts of La Salle county caused much damage. A Chicago, Burlington Quincy railroad bridge was washed out, as were a number o fhighway bridges.

GIRLS BALK AT LEGACY JOB

Only Three Apply for $3 a Week and $10,000 Bequest Post.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—The back-to-the-farm movement, even with a $10,000 bonus thrown in, carries no special appeal to Chicago girls. At least it so would appear, since only three young women have answered the appeal of James W. Pankhurst, the seventy year old McHenry county farmer. Mr. Pankhurst wants a young woman to act as caretaker for himself and his aged wife. She will get $3 a week and board, and a $10,000 legacy upon Pankhurt's death.

Mr. Pankhurst communicated his wants to the outside world through the federal employment bureau. Descriptions of the three who appeared were taken and sent to Mr. Pankhurst.

BRITISH REJECT U. S. DEMANDS

Four Notes on Free Seas Issue Made Public.

SOME CONCESSIONS YIELDED

Seizure of U. S. Ships and Cargoes Are Justified by Emergency Is Claim—Appeal to International Tribunal Suggested in Cargoes Which U. S. Thinks Wrongfully Held.

Milan, Aug. 4.—According to the Secolo, the impending German reply to the American Lusitania note points out that Germany regards the incident as having been definitely closed, and that she does not intend reopening the question.

Washington, Aug. 4.—In a series of communications between this government and Great Britain the British government rejects all the arguments of the state department, attempts to justify its treatment of American commerce, promises a measure of relief in certain instances and suggests that the United States appeal to an international tribunal in cases in which it believes he rights of Americans have not received full and fair consideration.

The notes are four in number. They are:

The note of Great Britain dated July 24, which held up temporarily at the request of Sir Edward Grey, dealing with the general subject of the treatment of American-owned cargoes.

The supplementary note of Great Britain, dated July 31, which was brought forth by the American caveat refusing to recognize the validity of British prize court proceedings as at present conducted. In this note Great Britain makes her suggestion of appeal to an international tribunal.

A communication from the state department to Ambassador Page at London, dated July 15, on the case of the American steamship Neches, instructing him to inform Great Britain that this government does not recognize the legality of the seizure of the cargo, and insisting that it be "expeditiously released."

The reply of the British government on the Neches case, dated July 31, declaring that so long as Germany continues to destroy American lives, ships and cargoes, it is neither just nor reasonable to press Great Britain to abandon what she understands to be her rights.

Suggestion Made.

This communication contains a suggestion which the state department interprets as a definite concession to American importers. It appears in the following paragraph:

"If, however, it be alleged that in particular cases and special circumstances hardsip may be inflicted on citizens of neutral countries, his majesty's government are ready in such cases to examine the facts in a spirit of consideration for the interest of neutrals, and in this spirit they are prepared to deal with the cargo of the Neches, to which your excellency has called attention, if it held that the particular circumstances of this case fall within this category."

The state department accepts the statement of Great Britain as an opening for a definite request that the British government specify the concessions it is willing to make and an inquiry of this nature will be sent at an early date.

U. S. INSPECTORS ARE FREED

Judge Landis Interposes in Case of Men Held in Irons.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Robert Reid and Charles C. Eckliff, United States steamboat inspectors, who were brought into the Redfield inquiry room in handcuffs, have thrown them off. Judge Landis stepped in to save the men from the ignominy of being held in irons before they had been formerly charged with any crime by a grand jury.

Indignation of Solicitor Albert L. Thurman and their attorneys at their treatment resulted in the application for writs of habeas corpus, brought by their attorneys, James J. Barbour and Charles E. Kremer. The state managed to have the arguments postponed until next Wednesday, but Reid and Eckliff were allowed by Judge Landis to go free on bonds of $2,500, which they themselves signed.

EXCURSION BUSINESS AT VANISHING POINT

Boats Being Withdrawn from Service on Lakes.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—A board named by the city council harbors committee began preparations for tests of the stability of excursion steamships sailing out of the port of Chicago. This board is composed of W. J. Wood, naval architect; Henry A. Allen, William A. Nelson, Herbert H. Evans, Adam F. Weckler and F. H. Avery. Sand bags weighing as much as a quota of passengers will be placed on one side of the Christopher Columbus Thursday as a means of ascertaining the seaworthiness of that vessel.

Excursion traffic on lake boats out of Chicago has dropped almost to the vanishing point as a result of the Eastland horror, and managers are casting about for some spectacular demonstration to convince the public that the crafts which remain afloat are safe.

Three boats—Theodore Roosevelt, United States and Rochester—have been withdrawn from further service this season and sent to winter docks across the lake. All were operated by the Indiana Transportation company, which had leased the Eastland for the ill fated excursion.

Between thirty and forty lake passenger boats operate out of Chicago. A good share of them have excursion licenses and make day trips. They are the hardest hit.

OLDFIELD DRIVES AT RATE OF 110 PER HOUR

BARNEY GRINS AFTER A TRIAL AND SAYS IT'S UP TO RESTA.

DOES NOT FEAR TWO OTHERS

Thinks the Coming Speed Contest Is Between Resta and Himself.

Chicago, Aug. 3—"Well, I guess that puts the burden of proof on Resta," grinned Barney Oldfield as the Old Master pulled up to a group of friends at the speedway this morning after finishing five laps of the two mile oval at the rate of 110.16 miles per hour with his French Delage car, driven in public in America for the first time this morning. Oldfield is the first of the starters in the big Oldfield, Resta, Burman, Cooper match scheduled for the speedway next Saturday to "try out."

Resta's best lap of the course with his big Derby winning Peugeot was at the rate of 110 miles an hour after he had ample time for practice and adjusting his carburetor to the Maywood altitude and atmosphere. With but a few laps trial Barney bested the Italian's record for the track and declares he can add a full two miles to the present mark. As the grizzled veteran has never been charged with being boastful his prediction of his future speed must be accepted as being at least near the truth.

Fears Resta Only.

"Neither Burman nor Cooper will worry me," continued Barney. "Cooper is a nice little fellow and comes from a great state, California, but his car is not within five miles an hour as fast as my new car. Burman holds the world's record for riding his horse to death in races,' but he will never get close to the front if Resta is as swift as I think he will prove. The race will be won as fast as 105 miles an hour average and I am allowing for at least one tire change. This will be the supreme drive of my career and I would give just half my part of the stakes to get Ralph DePalma in the race."

Oldfield's confidence is not causing worry in the camps of the other pilots and the fact that Dave Joyce, Oldfield's backer, is flourishing $1000 bills for the purpose of attracting a few wsports from the other side to make a friendly, o. otherwise, wager, is put down to Joyce's enthusiasm rather than a result of the dope sheet. Burman arrived late last night from DesMoines and Cooper drove up from Indianapolis late in the afternoon. Both retired as soon as they got in, ready for an early start on the speedway this morning. Resta is due on one of the 20-hour New York trains this morning.

lecture, fro mtheis eminent man of letters.

Friday evening Miss Ethel Virgin will sing a concert. Miss Virgin comes here well recommended and those who have had the good fortune to hear her sing, declare she is a wonder.

Keep in mind the concert next Sunday evening by Evan Williams, America's greatest concert tenor. If the weather is suitable thousands will be here to listen to this wonder singer, is a wonder, but what McCormick can do in the world of song, Williams can do. John McCormick, Isish, and Evan Williams Welsh, are the world's two greatest tenor singers, outside of the opera stars.

Bible Conference

Two very interesting lectures were delivered this forenoon at the Bible conference. Dr. Neve discussed the subject "History of the General Synod," and Dr. Clay lectured on "Are the Patriarchs Historical?" Both of these lectures were of a high order.

This morning Rev. W. H. Greever lectured on "The Black Man of the South" at 9 o'clock and at 11 Rev. S. S. Waltz will discuss the "Essential Elements of an Efficient Layman."

Both of these men are artists in their line of work and everyone attending received something good The attendance at the conference is increasing daily and all are manifesting a deep interest in these meetings.

Many Hear Mrs. Hill

Mrs. Hill's audiences are composed chiefly of women. Her work is already bringing good results and the Mission work here this session is becoming more interesting as the days of the week pass along.

This morning Mrs. Hill discussed "An Educative Force" and this afternoon she lectured on "A Healing Force." Tomorrow morning the Mission class will discuss "An Integrating Force" and in the afternooon at 4:30 the "Sources of Power" will be the subject discussed.

Local Orchestra Program

Wednesday evening the Dixon Concert orchestra of twenty pieces, directed by Prof. W. H. Smith, will play a prelude giving the following program:

March, Our Special—Jewell
Flower Song, Adoration—Barnard
Waltzes, Blooming Meadows — Waldtenfel
Trombone Solo, The Philistine—Smith
E. C. Senneff, Soloist
Overture, Mazeppa—Mahr
March of Marches—Von Praag

Boys 'Club

Forty boys have already enrolled as the members of the Assembly Boys' club. Secretary Bailey has for his assistants Harry Major and Norman Eichenberg. The class is divided into three divisions for work. Thursday afternoon there will be a game of playground ball. Young men from Sterling, Rochelle, Polo and Dixon will participate. All Assembly patrons are invited.

Militia Invited

The Assembly management, thru Dr. Altman, has extended an invitation to the officers and men of the Sixth Regiment, now camping at Fort Dunne, to be the guests of the Assembbly any day they desire. The regimental band is invited also and they can render a short program any time they wish. All that is necessary is to inform the management of the day that they wish to take advantage of this opportunity of being guests of the Assembly. It is hoped that the invitation will be accepted.

Bible Conference

During the hours of the Bible conference there was a heavy downpour of rain, yet despite this fact, one hundred persons turned out to hear the lecturers this morning.

Dr. W. H. Greever of Columbia, S. C., a man known among the Lutherans as one who has made the "American Lutheran Survey," a Lutheran magazine that is becoming rapidly known throughout the Lutheran Church. Dr. Greever addressed the conference on the subject of "The Black Man ofthe South." His talk was good. It showed careful preparation and thought and demonstrated that the speaker had profound knowledge of the subject.

Dr. Waltz of Louisville, Ky. at 11 o'clock adlressed the conference on the subject of the "Essential Elements of an Efficient Layman." This lecture was interesting to Lutherans but men of all denominations could get something for thought out of the talk.

Thursday morning at 9 o'clock Dr Greever will tell about the "White Man of the South." At 11 o'clock President R. B. Peery, Ph. D., will deliver his address on "The Rise of Japan." Both of these lectures will be good and the audience should be good.

Program Tonight

At 7:30 the Dixon Orchestra of twenty pieces will play a prelude and immediately after the concert, Totten, the Magician, will entertain.

There will be moving pictures after the Totten entertainment.

Good Roads Day

Thursday will be good roads day This is one great problam, good roads, that needs boosting, especially at this time.

Good roads day was to be, and ought to be, the one large day of the entire session. But it will not if the rain keeps coming down. It is to be regretted that weather conditions are as they are, for it would be a splendid opportunity to get a large roads and road building from the address of the Hon. Abram D. Gash Hon. James P. Wilson of Polo will preside, and will himself talk for a few minutes concerning the big question of roads.

Williams—Electrician

Thursday evening at 8 o'clock Louis Williams, electrician, will render a program that will contain a thrill of surprises every minute.

Mrs. Luke Stuart of Polo will give several readings before Mr. Williams will appear.

Williams is a mystic wonder worker. He deals in the inspirational phenomena of electricity. A wizard, but with it he is a humorist with a mirthful message. He makes no attempt to make a technical talk because that is not what would best remain in the minds of his hearers, but he so enlivens his remarks with dramatic object lessons that it is with real regret that his audience accepts his good night.

He will present experiments with currents of high potential and high freuqency by the use ofTesla's wonderful apparatus, showing the Z-ray, Ultra violet ray, minature lightning. The experiments include some of the most wonderful acts, such as receiving a hundred thousand volts through the body, lighting 16 c. p. lamps by contact of the hand, lighting vacuum tubes and globes without contact, etc.

Mr. Williams carries with him an elaborate equipment of dynamos, generators, motors and electric and chemical apparatus, which have cost hi mthousands of dollars.

Moving Pictures

Mr. Helms will give the following program of moving pictures after the program of Mr. Williams:

City of Her Dreams.
Max's Feet Are Pinched.

Mission School

This morning Mrs. Hallie L. Hill lectured on the subject of "An Integrating Force," and gave the most interesting and instructive talk, since her appearance here. She discussed the problem of immigration. She declares that this is the greatest question to be solved today. She says that the people will rise up and demand the president to sign the next bill passed by congress. Mrs. Hill declares that if there is a restricted immigration law, the majority of the troublesome problems of our country can be solved with ease. Immigration restriction is the basis of it all.

This afternoon Mrs. Hill discussed "Sources of Power," and gave another interesting lecture.

Thursday morning this talented woman will begin a series of lectures on the Foreign mission work. Her first subject will be "Along Old Mission Trails in Europe and Egypt." Thursday afternoon her subject will be "A Study of Missions in India."

Robinson Closes

Leland Rex Robinson of Columbia University, this afternoon closed the third and last of his series of lectures.

It is to be regretted that more people could not hear what this remarkable young man had to say on the question of World Peace. Mr. Robinson has given several years of study on this great question. He is now going before chautauqua audiences endeavoring to create activity along this line.

His lecture this afternoon,, "Uncle Sam and His Neighbors," was without question the best of the series. Weather conditions prevented a large audience from hearing him. However in the face of the bad weather he had a larger audience than the two previous days, which demonstrates that his popularity with the Assembly patrons began to reach a high wave, when it was necessary for him to say goodbye to Rock River Assembly for this session and depart for the west where he will lecture for several months more.

Girls Club

Miss Vail is meeting with success with the Asembly Girls' club this session. The daily drills take place at the Auditorium at 10 o'clock Miss Josephine Altman is assisting Miss Vail with the piano work.

Assembly Notes

Miss Gertrude M. Reid is assisting at the secretary's office this year.

Rev. Bramkamp of Chicago is at the Carthage College tent. He is attending the Bible conference.

John Bachman and family of Tiskilwa, Ill., arrived here Monday and will camp through the session. They reside on First street.

PREDICTS ALLIANCE WILL ATTACK U. S.

SENATOR LEWIS SEES RUSSIA, GERMANY, CHINA AND JAPAN AS ENEMIES.

EXPECTS NO HELP FROM ENGLAND

(Associated Press)

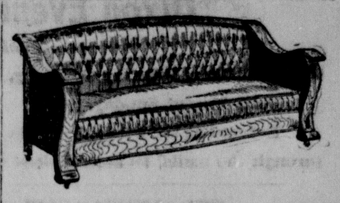

Asheville ,N. C., Aug. 3—The prediction that Russia, Germany, Japan and China would some time be arrayed in arms againstt he United States and that this country could not look for aid from England or, under conditions like those at present, from the South American powers, was made tonight in an address by Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, before the State Bar Association of North Carolina. His subject was "America as the International Law-giver of the World Tomorrow."

In preparedness for such an eventuality, Senator Lewis proposed calling a council of all the governments of South America and then by "alliance make common cause for the protection of republican form of government in the western hemisphere."

Declaring that Russia had a grievance against this country in connection with the disruption of the Commercial treaty with Russia growing out of treatment of the Jews, and that Russia and Germany, who "have no quarrel upon government alprinciples among themselves," would adjust their differences, Senator Lewis said:

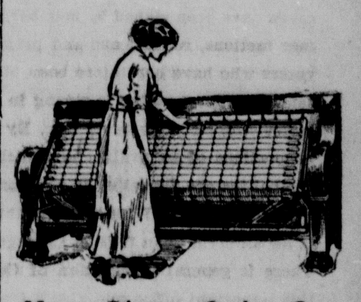

"Then both Germany and Russia will be bound together in a treaty with an object of dominating Asia from Siberia eastward, and then, as joint enemies of the United tSates, they will be found in conjunction with Japan, who, now an ally with Russia, will present to us the attitude of one who has earned the friendship of England and Russia in turn for the aid Japan is giving these countries by driving Germany out of China. Germany with little love for Japan, but with her grievance against us, will be as cooperative with Japan as Russia is today. Then with this situation the concentrated allies will seize the Philippines in retaliation for our refusing equality of citibenship to the Japanese. Russia, as the ally of Japan, would seize her former possessions, Alaska. To these will be found China adding her weight, resenting the grievance of exclusion of its pepole, cooperating wtih Japan. South America, with her now aroused suspicions of our objects in that zone, could afford us no protection and from her we could expect none, for reasons of her atitude of mind caused by misconception of our purposes and drawn fro mthe events of taking the Papama Canal and other incidents. Englang, because of her alliance with Japan, could under no circumstances render us aid, and has no feeling toward us from wheih we could expect any. But if England could render us aid, * * * you will not overlook that Tngland, if she dared participate, would arouse Russia to retaliation up on her Canadian possessions and Japan upon ongkong in China, and China upon the possessions at Shangha iand Central China. Thus we see too many reasons for ever dreaming of aid from any European source."

To show that these prophecies were not improbable, Senator Lewis cited historical instances where nations for merly belligerents subsequently became allies. Declaring that both England and Germany had abandoned heretofore acknowledged principles of international law and that "for America it is now plain that in any emergency involving her interests there is no law of nations that can be relied upon for any benefit or advantage." Senator Lewis led up to his predictions by endeavoring to show that by retining the Philippine Islands, the United tSates had itself violated "that prime rule of internation al law—the departure from her own zone and entering that of another."

LOWDEN A SURE WINNER.

Says the Rockford Register Gazette: No movement ever started in Rockford has met with more instant public favor than that inaugurated a few days ago by local friends of Col. Frank O. Lowden of Ogle county, to promote his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor next year. The plan adopted here is the voluntary circulation of cards by his admirers, the signers, whose ward, precinct and street numbers are given on the cards, signifying that they favor his nomination in the primary of 1916.

Hundreds upon hundreds of these pledge cards have been signed during the past few days and the indications are that the number will reach well up into the thousands, in Winnebago county before long. In fact, sentiment has never been more pronounced for a prospective candidate for a political office, in Winnebago county, than it is for Col. Lowden for governor. The cards have been signed by members of all political parties, elements and former factions, republicans and progressives alike and also include not a few voters who have heretofore been affiliated with the democratic party. The sentiment for Lowden is strong in every section of the city and county and is growing stronger every day. By primary day it promises to assume the proportions of an avalanche, which will sweep everything before it when the balltos are deposited in the boxes.

Sentiment in Winnebago county as to who the next governor should be is no different than it is in Chicago and the 100 other counties down state. There is general recognition of Col. Lowden's splendid qualifications for this important office and also a feeling prevalent that he is entitled to the honor next year. He has been a fearless, loyal republican and has given his hearty support to the principles and candidates of the party in all campaigns. When defeated for the gubernatorial nomination in the famous deadlock convention ten years ago he took his defeat most gracefully and did no sulking. Most people feel that his turn has come now and the indications are that nothing can stop his nomination, for the people are for him.

In Chicago Mayor Thompson and his administration will give him their united support, feeling that the downstate is entitled to the office during the next term and that Col. Lowden is best fitted to lead the party to success in the campaign of 1916. The support of the Thompson forces in Chicago will be augmented by the strongest organization of business men for Lowden that city has ever seen in the gubernatorial campaign. They want a business man for gvoernor.

Not in a generation have the 45 counties in southern Illinois been so united in favor of a candidate as they are for Col. Lowden. The leaders of all former factions are together in their support of the Ogle county farmer and they declare they will make northern Illinois go some if it rolls up a greater vote for him than he receives down in Egypt.

Col. Lowden will officially announce his candidacy when the proper time arrives. It is much too early for such an announcement yet, for primary day is still more than fourteen months away. If a candidate were to announce himself now he would wear himself out before primary day arrives. In the meantime, however, Col. Lowden's friends all over the state are active, just as they are in Rockford and Winnebago county, fully confident that he will be the republican nominee next year and that his election will follow in November, 1916, by the greatest majority ever given a gubernatorial nominee in this state. Col. Lowden is unquestionably the choice of the people for governor.

TRAINING STUDENTS.

An exchange offers this solution to the problem of military preparedness:

The matter of some sort of military training in our high school should receive the immediate attention and consideration of the people as well as the board of education. This has been tried out in Providence with much success and satisfaction and other cities are planning to adopt the same scheme. It is making headway all over the land and the present popular demand for more adequate national defense is giving it a great impetus. Some sort of military training for our boys could do no harm and would be of inestimable benefit. It would be a means of installing into them respect for authority, obedience, manliness, patriotism and many other desirable qualities in which our young people are much too weak at the present time. It would improve them physically and in an even better and safer way than is now employed to the same end. And in years to come such training as might be given them may stand their homes and their country in great, good stead. Let there be no delay. Let us act.

DEADLY TOADSTOOLS.

From this time on repetitions of the toadstools poisoning case at Nayatt Point may be expected. People who do not know the difference between mushrooms and toadstools, as in the past, are willing to take the chances of serious sickness or loss of life. Repeated object lesons showing the danger of eating the fungi which grow in the fields and woods apparently have no effect, and every years health and life are sacrificed.

Safety is insured by letting everything that looks like a mushroom alone. The number of persons having knowledge of fungi growths is very small, and unfortunately the toadstools are as plentiful as mushrooms. The statement that one toadstool may easily contain enough poison to kill several men cannot be repeated too often. It is a good rule to consider every variety of fungi dangerous, for the distinctions between the edible and the poisonous are not likely to be noted by the great majority of people who have heard that mushrooms are good to eat.—Providence Journal.

The patriots who go down in history are the ones who struggle so heroically to get the nation out of trouble, but nobody ever hears much about the patriots who struggle to KEEP the nation out of trouble,

The only consolation the rain brings is that it keeps down the dust on the bridge.

We don't hear anything about a clam bake this year. Why not?

LILLIAN LORRAINE

Idol of New York Theatre Goers Takes Stellar Role in Screen Play.

Lillian Lorraine, who is to star in the serial, "Neal of the Navy," was born in San Francisco in 1892. Like a number of other of the popular stage favorites of the day, she made her debut before the footlights at a very early age, playing "Eva" in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," when she was only four years old. Subsequently she took a child's part with a stock company at the old Central Theatre while attending the public schools. At the age of fourteen she left San Francisco for New York, just three months before the big earthquake. She obtained a small part in a musical comedy under Richard Golden almost immediately on her arrival. Her next engagement was with Eddie Foy in "The Orchid," half time in chorus and half doing a small part. Because of her striking personality Mr. Foy soon took her out of the chorus and gave her a song. The impression she made resulted in her being given an engagement in "The Great White Way," with Blanche Ring and Jeff De Angelis. Her first real chance came when she was engaged by Florence Ziegfield to appear in support of Anna Held in "Miss Innocence." The next year saw a further advance in that she was featured in the "1909 Follies" with Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth. She remained with the "Follies" for the next three years, being starred in the "Follies of 1912," when Nora Bayes dropped out.

She became the sensation and favorite of Broadway in a remarkably short time. She broke into vaudeville with a six months' engagement over the U. B. O. eastern time as a headline feature in a single singing act with original songs. In 1914 she was featured in the big "Whirl of the World" cast, an all-the-season New York success. She was filling another U. B. O. vaudeville engagement when approached by H. M. Horkheimer, of Balboa, who induced her to appear in pictures for the first time in "Neal of the Navy," which he was about to put on for Pathe. Previously she had turned down many flattering offers from film manufacturers.

Miss Lorraine still preserves her fondness for musical comedy and expects to appear in New York in a big production this fall. She has been frequently offered stellar parts in drama and hopes eventually to be seen therein. Her screen work indicates a splendid fitness for this line of dramatic endeavor. Miss Lorraine is especially well known in New York for, like most of the great favorites of the stage, she has been featured there steadily in Broadway productions.

CREIGHTON HALE

Creighton Hale's fame extends the length and breadth of the land as the man who plays the part of Jameson in Pathe's Elaine serial.

In playing this part he seems to have found a fitting vehicle for his art and has made a tremendous hit. He is the junior member of the great Elaine "firm" of stars; Arnold Daly, Sheldon Lewis, Edwin Arden, Lionel Barrymore, and Creighton Hale.

WAR SPECTACLE WILL BE STAGED

Tons of Fireworks Needed to Produce Mammoth Pyrotechnic Extravaganza.

SCENIC FEATURES MASSIVE.

Thearle-Pain Company Will Bring Airships and War Machines to State Fair. Three Hundred Experts In the Cast In "The War of the Nations."

People of the middle west who attend the Illinois State Fair at Springfield, Sept. 17 to 25, have in store for themselves a treat of the most spectacular nature ever attempted by the State Fair Board.

Beginning Saturday night, Sept. 18, the renowned Thearle-Pain Fireworks Display company will stage a mammoth and gorgeous reproduction of the European war, introducing massive scenic features, airships and Zeppelins in mortal combat, the bombardment of a city, the blowing up of forts and destruction of great cathedrals, trench attacks and every conceivable phase of war in its most tragic aspects.

The great conflict, now attracting the attention of the world and involving every great nation of Europe, will be brought before the very feet of the spectators, and all the deadly machines and instruments of death being employed will be brought into play.

"The War of Nations" is the title of the big drama which will be presented every night of Fair Week with the exception of the opening Friday and Sunday.

Three hundred experts will be used in the cast besides "supers," and thousands of dollars will be necessary to prepare the scenery and to provide apparatus, automobiles, air craft, fireworks, explosives and guns.

The Thearle-Pain people declare that nothing more startling and overwhelming has ever been conceived by them in the way of pyrotechnic exhibition. The idea is new and promises to bring tens of thousands of persons to the capital city for the big night shows alone.

In addition to the war drama and in connection with it a splendid program of firework displays will be offered, showing a grand potpourri of expensive pieces fired from every conceivable position. This is described as the best and most astonishing of its kind.

Beside the fireworks, the Pain company will also furnish a series of circus and specialty acts, all of which can be witnessed from the grand stand.

The masterpiece depicting the war, however, is the big attraction, exhausting the ingenuity of its creators.

The setting will cover a space 450 feet in length and representing 30,000 square feet of canvas painted in oil. A city in Flanders is represented, taverns, governmental buildings, palaces, cathedrals and the homes of the citizens being shown as they actually exist.

Morning is breaking. A state of war exists. In the fields and along the river are seen the big siege guns and the trenches filled with waiting soldiers.

Radio signals are being flashed from the tower in the midst of the city, and army officers hasten here and there in big armored automobiles, awaiting the expected attack.

At last hostile air craft are sighted, and the city's people are panic stricken. Bugle calls come in clear and keen, and the roll of drums is heard in the distance. The troops are falling into battle line, and the big guns begin belching their deadly missiles. The attack both from the air, where flying machines can be seen maneuvering, and from the earth begins with awful fury, increasing until nothing is left.

Two days are covered in the exhibition, and every phase of war and its horrors is reproduced.

At the end of the drama will be shown two tableaux. The first, "The Horrors of War," will present wounded soldiers supported by Red Cross nurses, sorrowful women and destitute children in the midst of scenes of the most desolate waste and destruction.

The second tableau will show "The Blessings of Peace," the farmer, the baker and the business man supporting a great horn of plenty. This last will characterize the state of peace in America.

The State Fair Board is confident that the Thearle-Pain performances will exceed anything ever attempted in Springfield at any time.

BUILDINGS PAINTED; STATE FAIR IS ALL "DRESSED UP."

The State Fair "in a new dress" will greet visitors when they begin to pour through the gates on the morning of Sept. 17.

Buildings which always have been imposing by virtue of their size, their arrangement and the facilities they offer for true exposition purposes will have taken on a brighter aspect. They are being repainted, the frame structures, and in consequence the big grounds will present rows of glistening edifices which will startle as well as please the patrons.

DESCRIBES BATTLE ON WESTERN FRONT

LETTER FROM FRENCH SOLDIER TELLS OF THREE DAYS' STRUGGLE.

WOUNDED BY GERMAN SHELL

Father of Rene Bardet Gets Graphic Story of Charge—Pathe Employe Proud of Son.

The personal, intimate side of the great world war now being waged is lacking in the colorless, censored reports officially disseminated by the various governments of the countries involved. Rarely letters come to this country from men at the front, and it is from such letters that one gains a conception of the sensation of the brave fellows, thousands of whom are dying daily for the highest earthly ideal a man can have—"pro patria."

One such letter has been received by Mr. Gabriel Bardet, the notary of the Pathe American Company, and an old and trusted employee of that great concern. When the war broke out last summer, Mr. Bardet's two sons, Rene and George, were among the very first French-Americans to leave for France to fulfill their duty to their mother country. George, the elder, was made a prisoner in the very first weeks of the fighting, and has since been incarcerated in Germany. A few brief letters have come from him to his father, saying that he is well and as happy as could be expected under the circumstances, his greatest hardship being the lack of tasty food. Mr. Bardet has in consequence made arrangements for various delicacies to be sent to him.

It is from Rene, the younger, however, that the Pathe notary has received the most interesting letter. Rene has been in the thick of the fighting from the start and his experiences are worth narrating. He says in part as follows:

"After a terrible bloody struggle which lasted for three days I am safe and sound and taking a much needed rest. For the first time since I have been at the front I have taken part in a bayonet charge and I never had thought that our men were so brave. On the morning of the 25th of May we had received orders to go ahead. At 12:30 the struggle began. Shells were bursting all around as friends and comrades were falling thick and fast, but still we forged ahead through the hell of fire and succeeded in taking the first German lines. What happened afterwards is indescribable. We fought like tigers with bayonets, knives, stones, bombs and rifle stocks foot for foot, and yard by yard. Terrible shrieks were ringing through the air from all sides from the wounded and the dying. We could not stop to help our stricken comrades for duty compelled us to go forward at all costs. We advanced to within fifteen feet of the German third line, but our losses were so heavy that only a few of us reached there. In fact at one time there was only my captain, a sergeant and myself left. A few groups of our own soldiers ran up to reinforce us for the cry came that the Germans were making a counter-charge on our left. Just then a shell broke right over us. All in our party were bowled over like a house of cards. The next thing I knew I was in the hospital with my face and right arm heavily bandaged. Perhaps my wound saved my life and I surely look up to God and thank him for having spared my life. Chills of horror come over me when I think that of that brave little group of survivors in front of the Germans perhaps I am the only one living. The battle continued to rage for a whole day and our soldiers succeeded in retaining the two trenches we had captured. Let us hope that the sacrifices these brave men made in giving their lives will not be in vain. My poor friends! How I pity them, and hope that they are happy in heaven, for they surely deserve it."

A MAN OF ALL AROUND TALENT.

Rarely does one find a man who is an actor, a painter, a musician, a writer, and a producing manager, and does all his accomplishments with great skill. Yet there is one man, William Elliott, a Pathe-Balboa star, who is to appear in "Comrade John," with Ruth Roland, who is thus versatile.

Miss Ethel Virgin, the grand opera singer, closes an engagement in Minneapolis and Chicago prior to her appearance in Dixon August 6th.

TWO FEET OF RAIN IN LAST THREE MONTHS

teams of six and eight horses can drag them across the wet fields. The gasoline motor, 3 horse power, attached to the rear of the binder furnishes the motive power for the cutting and binding.

All the farmers are now cutting oats to save them, althought it is realized that the loss through the heavy rains will be enormous at the present price of oats. Those who do not arrange the skids simply cut over the dry portions of the fields, leaving the wet until a later time, although that means a heavy loss of grain.

In many fields where the oats have been blown down, but where the binders can operate an attachment is placed on the cutter bar, which lifts up the grain before it is cut. This saves much of the grain and is of course a great saving in the farmer's time.

This attachment has been used successfully in Russia for the last 10 or 15 years but not much in the United States. Local implement dealers report a heavy demand for them.

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder troubles you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Logansport, Ind. — "My baby was over a year old and I bloated till I was a burden to myself. I suffered from female trouble so I could not stand on my feet and I felt like millions of needles were pricking me all over. At last my doctor told me that all that would save me was an operation, but this I refused. I told my husband to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I would try it before I would submit to any operation. He did so and I improved right along. I am now doing all my work and feeling fine.

"I hope other suffering women will try your Compound. I will recommend it to all I know." — Mrs. DANIEL D. E DAVIS, 110 Franklin St., Logansport, Ind

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter wil be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SCHOFIELD HOTEL AND COTTAGES

This popular resort is almost as well known as the Dells. It has been entertaining summer guests for forty years, and has lately been enlarged in capacity by the erection of a large modern building, fully equipped with every modern convenience, and affording dining room, assembly parlors, etc. This is an addition to the popular cottage plan, and adds to the previous popular attractions of the older system. The hotel and cottages are in extensive grounds, delightfully shaded by large oaks, and being away from the river is most especially desirable for families with children. The location is in the edge of Kilbourn on a pretty resident street, but a pleasant walk from the river and depot, and with regular free bus and carriage service to these points. The large hotel is not surpassed in this locality in point of modern style and comfort. The annex cottages and grounds make it altogether everything that anybody would desire. The test of efficiency is in the table. This hotel is especially noted for its excellent table board. Fresh butter, eggs, vegetables and fruit are supplied daily from the farm, and its preparation by a professional chef is perfect; chicken dinners twice a week.

Rates: $2 per day, $12 per week, half rates for children; rates made to family for week or longer. Rooms with bath must be applied for in advance.

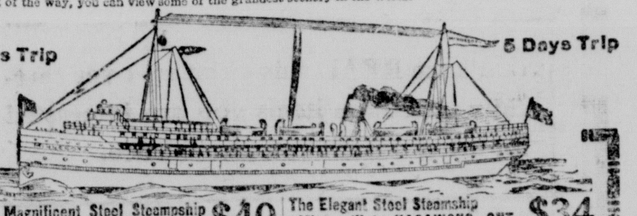

Free use of garage.

LAYING THE CLOTH.

Table Covers at One Time Were Arranged in Puffs and Folds.

In the twelfth century tablecloths were very large and were always laid on the table double. For a long time they were called "doubliers" for that reason. The cloth was first placed so as to touch the floor on the side at which the guests sat; then all that remained was folded so that it just covered the table.

Charles V. had sixty-seven tablecloths, which were from fifteen to twenty yards long and two yards wide. He had one cloth thirty-two yards long, which had the arms of France embroidered on it in silk. All these were fringed.

In the sixteenth century "doubliers" were replaced by two tablecloths, one of which was small and was laid just as we lay ours today. The other, which was put on over it, was large and of beautifully figured linen. It was skillfully folded in such a way that, as one chronicler tells it, "it resembled a winding river, gently ruffled by a little breeze, for among very many little folds were here and there great bubbles."

It must have required much art and care to make dishes, plates, saltcellars, sauce dishes and glasses stand steadily in the midst of this undulating sea and among those "bubbles" and puffy folds. However, the fashion had only a short existence, and toward the latter part of the century a single cloth laid flat and touching the floor on all sides of the table came into general use.

LOST IN A GLACIER.

Fate of a Prospector Who Slipped Into a Crevasse In Alaska.

"In the winter of 1898-9," said Robert C. Losey, "I was one of a party of prospectors in Alaska. We were crossing the Rampart mountains, in central Alaska, on the way to Quail creek, from which locality had come reports of a great gold find. A member of another party near us, in going over the mountains, had broken through a crust of sand and gone down into the crevasse of a glacier.

"He had gone down a distance of thirty-eight or forty feet, where he had lodged. We could not see him, but we heard him and we talked with him. We tried to reach him with a rope and finally tied a pick to the end of the rope, hoping to bring him out. He asked us to quit pulling on the rope; that we were making his position worse. He finally pleaded with us, his voice growing fainter and fainter, to go away and leave him.

"He evidently was freezing, not, as we have heard, a painful death, and he did not want to be bothered. He gave us his name; said he was fifty-four years old and told us to notify his folks at some town in Missouri. We stayed there until we could hear his voice no longer.

"He certainly made a record of being the coolest man, and then he froze to death."—Indianapolis News.

Turning the Tables.

"Turning the tables" in the sense of bringing a countercharge against an accuser has a classic origin. In the days of Augustus Imperator a regular craze seized the men of Rome to compete with one another for the possession of the costliest specimens of a certain description of table made for the most part of Mauritanian wood inlaid with ivory—"mensarum insania," or table mania, as Pliny called it. They were sold at most extravagant prices. When the men accused the ladies of sumptuary extravagance the latter naturally retorted by reference to the money squandered by their lords on these tables and so "turned the tables on them" by throwing them metaphorically in their teeth.

A Remarkable Suicide.

One of the most remarkable cases of suicide was that of the king of Falaba, on the west coast of Africa.

The king was attacked by a Mohammedan force, and, finding resistance impossible, he assembled his family and principal officers and after addressing them and intimating his determination never to accept Mohammedanism and inviting those who did not agree with him to go away, he applied a light to a large quantity of gunpowder collected for the purpose and blew into atoms the palace and all who were in it.

Vanity.

"That man says he wants his picture to look perfectly natural," said the photographer's assistant.

"Make it as handsome as possible," replied the proprietor.

"But he insists that he doesn't want the picture to flatter him."

"He won't think it flatters him. He'll think that at last somebody has managed to catch the way he really looks."—Chicago News.

Girl With a Conscience.

Two little girls walking through a field were afraid of a cow. Said one of them, "Let's go right on and act as if we were not afraid at all." "But wouldn't that be deceiving the cow?" the other little girl expostulated.—Christian Herald.

Rubbing It In.

Proud Dad—I suppose in the course of time baby will be married, even as we were. Mamma—Yes, I suppose she'll throw herself away on some man.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Point.

"A joke's a joke, but did you ever make anybody laugh by pulling a chair from under him?"

"At least it upsets his gravity."—Baltimore American.

STEADFASTCONFIDENCE

The Following Statement Should Form Conclusive Proof of Merit to Every Dixon Reader.

Could stronger proof of the merit of any remedy be desired than the statements of grateful endorsers who say their confidence has been undiminished by lapse of time? These are the kind of statements that are appearing constantly in your local papers for Doan's Kidney Pills. They are twice-told and confirmed with new enthusiasm. Can any reader doubt the following. It's from a Dixon resident:

B. A. Worley, blacksmith, Peoria Ave., Dixon, says: "The action of my kidneys was irregular and annoying and my back ached. After using Doan's Kidney Pills, the pains left my back and my kidneys became regular in action." (Statement given May 21st, 1912.)

Over two years later, Mr. Worley said: "Whenever my back gets lame and sore and needs a kidney medicine, I use Doan's Kidney Pills, and they give me relief."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Worley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ACCUSED CAIRO, ILL., PASTOR SELF SLAYER

Rev. A. P. Garrett Ends Life in Basement of Church.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 4.—Rev. A. P. Garrett, until recently pastor of the Cairo Baptist church, shot and killed himself in the basement of the church. A note which he sent to one of the officials of the church led to the discovery of his body.

Gossip which charged him with improper conduct, led to the severance of his connection with the church recently.

He left the city Saturday, returned later and went immediately to the church and killed himself.

LINDSEY HELD IN CONTEMPT

This is Finding of Denver Court—Sentence on Judge Deferred.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 4.—Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Denver Juvenile court was found guilty of contempt by Judge John A. Perry. Sentence was deferred pending Judge Lindsey's return from the east.

The contempt case resulted from the judge of the juvenile court having refused to reveal on the witness stand what he said was a confidenital conversation with Neal Wright, twelve years old, whose testimony in the criminal court had much to do with the acquittal of his mother, Mrs. Bertha Wright, charged with the murder of her husband.

FATAL "ACCIDENTS" PLANNED BY VILLA

Amazing Story Told by Chicagoan, Intended Victim.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—One of the most amazing inside stories of the murder of Americans in Mexico that ever has come to light was told in Chicago by Captain William Mattery, a Chicago aviator, believed dead, who reached the city Monday. Captain Mattery was a member in General Villa's aviation corps. That he is here to tell the story is no courtesy of the general's. Mattery escaped from Mexico a fugitive with a death sentence on his head.

On July 14 last dispatches from Villa's army headquarters announced the death of Captain Mattery, describing how his machine plunged 5,000 feet to earth. Appended was an eulogy of the Chicagoan's courage by Villa himself.

That, it appears, is the cunning Castilian way Senor Villa has of doing things. First, providing a plausible accident alibi for American consumption, he lines the Yankees up and executes them. Mattery, however, upset the dope. After the story of his "accidental death" already had been given out, and just two hours before the time set for his execution, he eluded his guards, and after most hazardous experiences reached El Paso.

Captain Mattery gives the names of two American aviators, one reported killed, the other "seriously injured," by falls in machines, who, he says, have been executed.

Captain Mattery declared that his flying partner, Michael McGuire, also known in Chicago, and Farnum T. Fish, formerly a member of the Aero club of Illinois, had been treated in the same manner as he.

The offense the men committed consisted, Mattery says, in demanding the pay Villa promised them when they enlisted.

TURKS WIPE OUT WHOLE CITY

9,000 Women and Children With All Men Massacred in Armenia.

London, Aug. 4.—A Turkish massacre of 9,000 women and children in addition to the entire male population of Biblis, Turkish Armenia, is reported in dispatches received from B. Vrazdate, a member of the committee of the Armenian Social Democratic party. He declares that after the murder of the men of Biblis the Turks assembled the 9,000 women and children, drove them to the banks of the Tigris, shot them down in droves and hurled their bodies into the river.

These advices have not been substantiated from any other source.

SING SING PRISONER WEDS

It Will Be Some Years Before He Can Take Honeymoon.

New York, Aug. 4.—Wedding bells tinkled in Sing Sing when Peter Cullen, a convict who has served four out of the ten years allotted to him, was married in the warden's office to Julia Sullivan of New York.

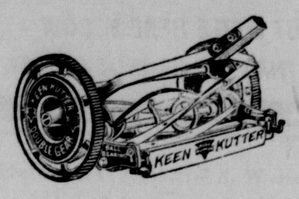

The bride now will have the custody of the convict's little brother and sister and will take care of them so that it will not be necessary to send the two children to an institution. It is the second marriage ever performed at Sing Sing, but had the approval of Warden Osborne.

Page's Daughter Weds in London.
